

Fun Provided by Graduates in Class Day Program

A sense and much nonsense included in interesting program which pleases large audience. After stage setting furnished background for realistic picture. Monday evening saw the Kingston high school auditorium filled to capacity with the relatives and friends of the graduating class of 1928 and the graduates, gathered to enjoy a sense and much nonsense of class day. The stage had been cleverly arranged as a banquet at which a table in the foreground, and other tables, an anchor and many other things of gay colors as appropriate. The assembled on deck the large graduating class presented a remarkably realistic picture as the curtains parted, following on open number party by such members of the high school orchestra as were not in the class. Vincent G. Connolly, president of the class, presided and acted as master of ceremonies, greeting the large audience and making announcement at the class of 1928, having done so Monday evening, would tonight recall to the real sea of Mr. Connolly would be the last occasion upon which the class would foregather as a class.

The first number on the program was an address by the class orator, Miss P. Brennan, who put forth a plea and stirring appeal for making effort on the part of America, through World Court and League of Nations, to prevent future wars. Abolish Childish Punishments. Out of the expressions of gratitude and appreciation, sense and nonsense, the "Address to the Parents", given by Walter Donnarumma, he made a most unusual request of the fathers, that in the future they add to the correctness of punishment, especially for small offenses, the percentage of some act not too entirely right, to formulate a rule of law behavior with stated punishments, to be used in future. He met with a tribute to the human kindness of faculty members from the class would never forget. Miss Margaret C. Seale as class orator read the log of the good book, which she had written for the last four years, in which she entertainingly related the outstanding events in the life of a class of 1928. She also paid tribute to the memory of Miss McElroy, who had always led her friends on to finer, nobler things, in whose death occurred recently. Louis B. Steketee, the class orator, in a somewhat humorous way, at the expense of his own and the junior class, highly pointing out follies and blots.

Watch Chances for Athletics. At this point on the program, Vincent Connolly announced an invitation not scheduled on the program, the fact that Dr. Raymond Crispell, representing the Kiwanis club, would, in behalf of that club, present certain prizes to the K. H. S. basketball team that had won the 1928 League game in four counties. Crispell said that the Kiwanis club, in keeping young with a youth of their time and interest in their interests, there it was his privilege to present basketball watch charms to the following men, which was met with much applause: Captain Parker, H. Barth, Phil Jones, Stuart, Parker, A. Blackwell, Manager Fisher and Coach Kias. Captain Brennan, on behalf of his associates and himself, graciously thanked the Kiwanis Club. Three short original poems, "Have a Snow", "Suspense" and "Emotion", all worthy of commendation as literary poems, were given by the class. Ruth D. Byrne.

Junior Class Gets Passport. After giving both sarcastic and sincere "Advice to the Juniors", in an approved fashion, Vincent G. Crispell presented the Class of 1928 in the passport to Senior class, and there was some real fun and wit. S. Gordon Watts gave the Junior response, cleverly calling attention to many of the peccadilloes of the Senior class, closing with the seniors' best wishes for the best of luck and success of the Seniors. The program closed with the reading of the Class Legacy and presentation of letters to class members, given by Anne O'Meara, who drew gifts from a well-worn treasure chest. Many of the gifts called forth a laugh.

CH GRADUATE HAD HIS WATCH STOLEN.

Arthur V. Hendricks of Stone, a member of the graduating class of the Kingston High School, attending the class day exercises at the school Monday evening, lost his watch and vest in his car. The watch was at the exercises. The watch was highly valued as was one of his graduation gifts.

Arthur Hendricks, Roosevelt, John and Franklin D. Roosevelt, sons of Governor and Mrs. John D. Roosevelt, were luncheon today of Kenneth E. Archer, the hotel Stuyvesant.

Strain Upon Truth

The strain upon truth in advertising becomes too great when the public is told that other cigarettes enjoy the toasting process. It takes three years to produce Lucky Strike's flavor. This unrivaled cigarette is a blend of finest tobacco from each of three consecutive growths—the cream of the crop. Then comes the secret toasting process which in the opinion of 20,679 physicians makes Lucky Strike less irritating than other cigarettes. This exclusive heat treatment also purifies the tobacco and adds a touch of nut-sweet flavor—appetizing, delicious, different—the earmark of one of the world's most popular products.

Rum Chaser Drive In Lake Territory Lower 'Gallonage'

With augmented enforcement crews, the United States is reducing the flow of liquor from Canada. Above is a boat of the customs border patrol at Detroit; below is shown a speakeasy being raided with liquor on the Canadian side. The map shows the customs service, 75 per cent of the Canadian liquor clears for the United States.

Detroit (A.P.).—Across the Detroit boundary line passes through the river, that turbid liquor line between a drink of liquor and a drink of water—legally speaking—297,647 gallons of alcoholic beverages were cleared from Canadian to United States ports—last March.

In April, the liquor flow consisted of 178,560. In May it was 172,472 gallons.

The big drop in exports, in the face of more propitious weather for navigating the river, tells the story of the beginning of the present concentrated move to make the boundary unsafe for rum runners.

The present push is divided among three specific arms of the government service, with E. P. Norwood of the customs service coordinating the effort.

In the customs service are 150 men manning 20 fast boats. On land is an augmented force of prohibition agents and increased numbers of automobiles for their use.

On the water, coast guard boats armed with one-pounders and small speedboats of the customs border patrol, endeavoring to create a blockade that rum runners will find impossible to penetrate.

"Pull up and be searched," frequently is heard on the Detroit river as the border patrol agents greet small craft. If the occupants of the small craft are peaceably engaged they usually submit to the search. If there is liquor aboard a fight sometimes ensues. The task of the dry patrol is made anything but easy by the fact that it cannot operate in Canadian waters. The international boundary line passes through the Detroit river and at no point is the river much more than a mile in width. In most places it is even narrower, and always half of it is recognized as Canadian territory.

Although the border patrol in the Detroit district is charged with patrolling approximately 100 miles of coast line from Port Huron to the mouth of Lake Erie its big job lies in the approximately 17 miles of Detroit river front from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie.

Along this front on the Canadian side are the several so-called "Border Cities" and not a few liquor loading docks. On the Michigan side is the long Detroit waterfront with scores of boat wells, docks and other landing places.

Farther south are such communities as Ecorse, Wyandotte and Trenton, making up what is known in Detroit as the "Down River" section. The shore line at Ecorse, some of it marshy and some of it lined with beachouses, has been the scene of much rum running and not a few clashes between the smugglers and the prohibition enforcement agents.

Figures for Canadian liquor clearances from the ports of Sandwich, Windsor, Walkerville, Somerville and Sarnia to the United States for the last year have been compiled by the customs service and they tell a story of increasing "gallonage" until the customs arm was strengthened and able to bring a normal force into action. Seventy-five per cent of the liquor consumed in the United States from Canada clears from those ports, says the customs service.

Broadway Lady Tells Of Relief Obtained By Using Nu-Erb

Splendid Results Obtained In Case of Stomach, Kidney and Liver Disorders.

"Since using Nu-Erb for a few weeks, I can easily understand why so many Kingston men and women are recommending and talking about this medicine," said Mrs. Florence Pratt, 59 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. In a recent statement to the Nu-Erb specialist at McBride Drug Store, 212 Wall Street.

"For more than twenty years, I have suffered from stomach, kidney and liver troubles which have caused me no end of misery and suffering. I cannot remember when I was able to eat a full meal without worrying about the after effects, for even though I lived on only the lightest of foods, I suffered from indigestion, sourness and heartburn. I got dizzy spells and sick bilious attacks. My nerves were in a weakened, rundown condition and rheumatism settled in my joints causing them to become stiff and sore."

"Although I have only been using the Nu-Erb a few weeks, these troubles have practically all disappeared and for the first time in years, I can eat most anything I want without having any pain or distress afterward. The pains have left my back and the rheumatic aches and pains have been relieved so that I have practically no trouble in that way. Nu-Erb has also strengthened my nerves and put an end to those sickening dizzy spells and bilious attacks. I feel that I cannot say enough for what it has done for me."

"Dr. French's Nu-Erb cleanses the system of poisonous waste matter and restores the digestive organs to a healthy action. It strengthens weak kidneys, cures the nerves, drives poisons from the system, which cause rheumatism and nervousness and banishes headaches, biliousness and constipation. It is pleasant to take and the results are quickly felt."

McBride Drug Store, 212 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now located there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

News from the World on Wheels

Traffic announced by the export department of the Hudson Motor Car Company covering the first five months of 1929 show an increase of 100 over the sales over a similar period in 1928, the previous best period in Hudson's history. This would indicate that the 1928 record will be broken by a substantial majority. Export sales continue to parallel domestic sales which are also setting new high records.

In the first official sound test ever recorded on an automobile, the "voice" of the Graham-Paige has been tried out and found insufficient in volume for use in "talkies." Albert DeSart, director of sound effects for the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, attended the novel experiment at the Hollywood studios, and at its conclusion, broke the news to the Graham-Paige Company that its car, though it is a star performer on the road, cannot become a cinema headliner, because it doesn't make noise enough.
Every precaution that guards the making of a talking picture was taken in giving the Graham-Paige its sound test. The car, a model 615 roadster, was wheeled on one of Paramount's new sound stages. DeSart sat at the mixing panel in the monitor room, and signalled his assistants on the stage to start the motor. All DeSart could hear was a low steady hum, much like the sound a bottle fly might make. Then he asked Nancy Carroll, one of Paramount's most popular players, to talk while the motor continued running, and she spoke her lines from "Illusion," in which she appears with Charles (Buddy) Rogers. When the film was run, Miss Carroll alone was heard, the Graham-Paige engine not interfering in the least.

Two Studebaker President Eights, one of which won first place in its class, were the only American cars to take honors in the famous British "Double-Twelve" endurance run held recently on the Brooklands speedway near London, according to cables received by the Studebaker Corporation.

A new one-ton panel and screen delivery car of 146-inch wheelbase, powered by a Studebaker-built six cylinder motor, is announced by Studebaker. It is already in production and shipments are being made.

EBOPUS.

Epopus, June 24.—The services at the Methodist Episcopal Church were very well attended Sunday. At the 11 o'clock service the message "His Cup" was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Edith E. Dewey. Holy Communion was administered to many members. The church was very beautifully decorated by Miss Amy Smith and her committee. The evening service was given over to the annual Children's Day exercises. The order of the service was as follows:

MILTON.

Milton, June 24.—On account of the hot weather which has about ruined the strawberry crop, the Hudson River Fruit Exchange are not buying and shipping any more strawberries.

The fruit growers in this section and Marlborough have found that they must make an earnest fight against the fruit fly and curculio this summer. The Hudson River Fruit Exchange has warned the fruit growers that cherries containing maggots or curculio will be rejected and destroyed by state inspectors and will not allow them to be shipped or sold storage plants or be shipped or offered for sale on city markets.

The cherry fly lays eggs under the skin of the cherry in midsummer and from these eggs small whitish maggots about one-third of an inch long hatch out and eat a cavity in the ripening fruit. The curculio is a grayish beetle less than a quarter of an inch long. The female beetle gouges a cavity in the cherry. The only effective control is to spray with an arsenic poison.

Douglas Hassen of Poughkeepsie has been visiting Mrs. D. M.
Warren.

Funeral services for the late Mrs.
Thomas O. Bailey, mother of Winfield Bailey of Milton, were held at St. Mary's Church, Marlborough Saturday morning. Mrs. Bailey died in

New York city last Wednesday. Besides her husband she is survived by one son.

The Republican Club of New York city is expected to attend a dinner at the Willow Tree Tea House, Milton, August 24. Special guests will be Senator Harcourt J. Pratt of Highland and Senator Fish of Newburgh. A boat is to be chartered for the occasion and will bring the club to Milton landing. The club will bring its own band and an enjoyable day is planned.

Miss Amelia Raumer, who has been at the home of Frank Luger as housekeeper for the past three years, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Long Beach, Conn. From there she will return to her home in Germany. While here Miss Raumer made many friends who are very sorry to have her leave Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Diorio attended the Armen's convention in Troy last Thursday.

Mrs. Caroline McNicholas has leased the Green Lantern Inn recently conducted by her son to Mr. Gose of Poughkeepsie.

The Maids and Matrons Club will hold their monthly meeting at their rooms Tuesday afternoon, June 25.
Miss Ann Raymond, field representative of the school department of the Cleanliness Institute in New York city will address the meeting. Miss

Raymond has returned from a tour in Illinois and Kentucky. She has been associated for some time with Miss Grace Hallock of Milton in the work of the institute.
C. J. Heyworth and Oliver P. Kent have opened their roadside markets.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Donald,

Consider the deliv-

the list price when comparing automobile values... Viking delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

There is one outstanding difference between the new Viking and all other automobiles. The Viking is the only medium-priced car on the market today that provides the definite superiorities of ninety-degree, V-type, eight-cylinder performance.

The difference is instantly discernible when you drive the car.
The very feel of its power—its smooth, quiet flow—suggests the remarkable performance abilities of its 81-horsepower engine.

These abilities become increasingly evident with every performance test. There is indescribable smoothness. Acceleration is exceptionally swift and sure, both in getaway from a standing start and in pick-up at the higher speeds. Speed is easy and effortless, practically limited by the driver's desire. Few motorists drive as fast as this new Viking will travel.

Among the outstanding advantages of the new Viking engine are its simplicity, rigidity, accessibility, and compactness. The valve mechanism is entirely new in design and is more accessible than in the conventional automobile engine. The valves are set horizontally and are unusually simple, quiet, and rigid. Fuel distribution is based on the down-draft principle of manifolding—providing each cylinder with a fuel mixture of uniform quality.

Lubrication and cooling are both remarkably efficient. Thermo-statically-controlled radiator shutters are standard equipment.

If you have not already inspected the new Viking, come in and do so today. Get behind the wheel and drive it. Compare it with other cars. Then, and only then, can you fully appreciate the luxury that Viking ninety-degree, V-type, eight-cylinder performance brings to the medium-price field.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Stylish Coat Ensemble For Misses.
6233 Coat.
6202 Dress.
Jersey and tweed are used in this attractive design. Printed and plain linen is also suggested. A very popular development would also be of the dress in two tones of brown or blue or black and white, with the black for the coat, and facings on the dress.

The Coat Pattern-6233 is cut in 3 sizes: 14, 16, and 20 years. The Dress Pattern-6202 is cut in 1 size for Junior Misses, and for Misses 14, 16, 18, and 20 years and also for Ladies 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. To make the ensemble as pictured for a 16 year size will require 2 1/2 yards 33 inches wide for the coat and belt and facings on the dress, and 5 1/2 yards for the dress and coat lining. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plain extended is 2 1/2 yards. To make the coat alone in 1/2 length will require 2 1/2 yards of 54 inch material. In shorter length 2 1/2 yards will be required. To make the dress alone for a 16 year size will require 3 1/2 yards 32 inches wide, together with 1/2 yard of contrasting material for facings on collar, front and belt.

TWO separate patterns mailed to any address on receipt of 12c FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Spring and Summer 1929 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle illustrating 30 of the various simple stitches, all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, June 25—On Friday, June 21, the school year was brought to a close with a picnic in Peterskill Grove. Among the recreational activities were bathing, games and a peanut hunt. Gaily colored balloons not only added a note of color to the festivities but also afforded much fun.

All of the children from this school who took Regents' examinations passed their work very successfully. The children who are now ready to enter high school are Phyllis James, Warren Cole, Myrtle Lapp and Simon Lawrence.

Warren Cole was the winner of the spelling contest of the town of Rochester which was held at the Accord school, June 1. On June 24 Warren took part in the county spelling contest at Kingston High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Warry Krom of Harrison, N. Y., spent the week end with his mother.

Miss Cornelia Lounsbury was a recent guest of Mrs. Howells, her cousin, who is boarding at Lake Mohonk for the summer.

Mrs. Benjamin Markle of Rutherford, N. J., is spending some time at her summer home here.

Afternoon Gowns of Evening Mode

Laces, Creps, Chiffons, Are Among the Favorite Materials.

Since the clinging line is to be the leitmotif of this feminine season, afternoon dresses are more important than they have been since the days when the problem of how many cards to leave when calling was one of the burning questions of the hour, observes a fashion writer in the New York World. In this casual age we have become used to slipping from tweeds straight into evening satin, but such a slovenly practice is no longer viewed with approval. Since half the secret of chic this season lies in being as feminine as your growing bob will allow, you should include several filmy afternoon creations in your wardrobe.

The new afternoon gowns are very close to the evening mode and often indistinguishable from the few dinner dresses that have not been driven from the field by the passion for pajamas. Printed chiffon, which is still the most popular fabric for the garden party sort of thing, appears in the same patterns for afternoons as for evening; the larger and more distinctive floral patterns are considered the best. Many of the new chiffons are hand-painted in unusually charming designs that are less blurred than last year.

In some cases the flowers are botanically recognizable. All colors are combined in these prints with the capricious shades well to the fore. Crepe chiffon is a very charming fabric which shares popularity with stiffened chiffon. Other fabrics suitable for formal daytime wear include lace and all of the crepes, provided they are tucked and plaited and otherwise removed from the practical runabout class.

Long, butterfly ends are apt to dangle about the hemlines on some of the smartest new dresses which follow the

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Sunbathing Process, Added by Fashion, Goes Merrily On.

New York.—The process of sunbathing is ably assisted by the sports frock, the neck of which is cut after the manner of a dinner gown. Such deep décolletés would at one time have been regarded with something like horror for day wear, but now everyone goes about sunning themselves and looking rather smart the while, custom having made the "backless" dress for resort wear a valued member of the sunworshippers' equipment.

The Tuxedo colony, a rather conservative one, sponsored the backless dress at the opening day of their horse show, many of the costumes being made with low backs and with jackets which were frequently carried instead of worn. Shades of pink and yellow were given as the dominating tones on this occasion but this was an exception, pink having had scant fashion recognition, blue sharing honors with yellow. The materials princess or mermaid lines. The latter is an exaggeration of the familiar princess tendency and is tight to the body as far down as the knees, with the skirt extending well toward the ankles. The cape sleeve is used on some of the successful dresses of this type. One very handsome dress of chiffon, printed in a large floral pattern in blue and mulberry, is sleeveless and is accompanied by the cape berth which, when removed, turns a charming afternoon gown into the very thing to wear to a country club dance.

The afternoon ensemble, when it does not consist of a dress and simple matching jacket, occasionally shows a contrast between the coat and dress which graciously permits you, if you wish, to use the same coat for several different costumes. Quilted coats are very good for this purpose and appear in unlined taffeta in every length from the jacket to the full-length coat. One attractive ensemble for the less ambitious afternoon occasions combines a jacket of quilted white jersey with dark red edging and a dress of red crepe de chine whose sole trimming is a shoulder bow with long ends that trail below the waist and a great many square glass buttons. The main thing to remember is that, regardless of your golf game or your job, you must look like a medley of all the feminine accomplishments from four o'clock to dawn.

Beige and Tan Modish in Wearing Apparel

With so many bright colors and black receiving honorable mention it would seem that beige and tan were quite lost to sight.

They are modish in coats and hats of felt or natural straw and also in accessories, the trick is that instance being a brilliant color which makes use of beige as a setting.

Gloves, handbags, hosiery and shoes are strikingly dominant in the natural tones, and it is simple to work out a perfect color scheme whereby one can use the beige group to advantage.

For Ending Youngsters

The first juvenile court in the world was established on April 21, 1899, in Cook county, Ill., by act of the Illinois legislature. The bill was drafted at the request of the members of the Chicago Women's club and was sponsored by the Chicago Bar association.

worn ran the gamut from brown and white checked gingham to bouclé, a member of the knitted family.

The status of the straw hat having become definitely established, it now remains for smart folk to cast their vote for coarser shiny straws against the fine dull ones for which we have almost forsaken felts. For active sports wear, felt, however, more than holds its own, even though the gallery has cast a straw ballot.

White, which seems and prophesied would be highly favored by the elect this summer, has been rather slow in justifying this opinion. The all-white show has all but disappeared in favor of other whites with color, the preferable, or a show to match the costume. White stockings have given place to sun tan shades.

It's a Question of Knowing

Some women always seem to have good luck with their cake icings and fillings and meringues . . . seem to have them turn out smooth and creamy, deliciously creamy, always. But the truth is, it isn't a question of luck. It's a question of knowing that Jack Frost Confectioners Sugar is especially processed to give that smoothness and creaminess to icings. It's a question of using Jack Frost Confectioners Sugar in the Blue Box. Insist on it when you want sugar that will make successful dainties.

Kingston Men in Albany Parade

American Legion Drum Corps of Kingston Post, No. 150, was one of the outstanding features of the night Templar parade held in Albany Monday, when 16,000 Knights marched through State street to the music of "Oswald Christian Song" from a martial symphony of St. Louis.

The Kingston men formed a conspicuous part of the sweeping column marching from curb to curb in which the Knights Templar with their white and black uniforms and bright hued banners passed in review before approximately 15,000 people.

The Kingston Press this morning had several group pictures of the Kingston Legionnaires, which were shown, and had the following comment upon them and a band from Kingston:

One of the most colorful group of men in the parade was the American Legion band of Kingston, which led the Kingston commandery, in bright red coats and yellow breeches, and wearing gold helmets, black and gold uniforms of the legion band, escort of the Newburgh commandery, and the glass chiming of miniature xylophone which tinkled over the band music, drew another hand from the crowds along the way.

FATAL FIST FIGHT BETWEEN SCHOOLBOYS

Chicago, June 25 (P).—A 13-year-old schoolboy was killed yesterday when he and another youth of the same age fought with fists to settle their grievances.

The victim, Harry Heartin, was punched in the stomach by Roy Stokes, police learned, shortly after the fight started.

Heartin, it was learned, became angry a week ago when Stokes, a member of the junior police of the school both boys attended, forbade him to cross the street against traffic. The fist fight was decided on as the best way to settle the differences.

WOMAN ABSOLVED OF POISONING CHARGES

Mexico City, June 25 (P).—Mrs. Soledad Morales de Learn, Mexican wife of an American wild animal hunter, has been released from prison and absolved of charges in connection with alleged attempts to poison William A. King, her husband's professional rival.

Mrs. Learn was arrested Sunday after evidence purporting to show she had attempted to remove King from the scene of her husband's business operations by hiring a woman friend to poison him. It was said the charges against her were unfounded.

Customs Officers Refuse to Testify

Investigation Into Gordon Showing Marks Time While County Authorities Sought to Learn Whether Officers Could Refuse to Give Testimony.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., June 25 (P).—Clinton county's investigation into the shooting of Arthur Gordon, alleged liquor runner, and the relationship of the incident to two border patrolmen, again marked time today while county authorities sought to learn whether federal officers could refuse to give testimony at a coroner's inquest.

District Attorney B. Loral O'Connell and Coroner Charles D. Rea recessed the coroner's investigation within a few hours of its inception yesterday when they were confronted with the refusal of two customs officers to testify on the grounds it might incriminate them and after John C. Tulloch, customs collector of Ogdensburg, said he "thought" a report on the shooting had been made to him, but that he could not produce it inasmuch as he had forwarded it to Washington.

Tulloch also declined to testify concerning his conversations relating to the shooting with a special agent, but was overruled in this stand by the coroner. He then repeated his earlier statement as a representation of the report made to him by the special agent, saying that Gordon was shot accidentally while attempting to escape from Border Patrolmen W. J. Cheatham and F. L. Coveney after they had ordered him to stop near the village of Moores early in the morning of June 15. The shot struck Gordon, Tulloch repeated, when a gun carried by Cheatham was discharged as the officer fell.

James M. Gregory, deputy collector at Moores, and John O'Hara, deputy in charge of that customs office, both declined to testify on grounds of possible incrimination and thereby added another question to those confronting the county officers.

The statement of Davison Pratt that he had been witness to the early morning incident, with the exception of the actual firing of the shot or shots, was being checked by the coroner and district attorney.

DAWES AND GIBSON COSPER ON EUROPEAN SITUATION

London, June 25 (P).—Two United States ambassadors, Charles G. Dawes and Hugh S. Gibson, were in conference at the American embassy this morning on problems of the American government and its international relations.

The ambassadors, one of whom is accredited to Great Britain and the other to Belgium, were understood to be discussing the general European situation, and the special topic of naval disarmament. It was believed generally the meeting of the two envoys was another step in the movement for fixation of a naval strength standard, the outstanding question between the two English-speaking nations.

PARLIAMENT RE-ELECTS CAPT. FITZROY SPEAKER

London, June 25 (P).—The new British parliament held its first session today under the Labor Government and re-elected Captain E. A. Fitzroy, Conservative, speaker.

Not a vote was cast against the popular presiding officer who was lauded in the nominating speeches for his impartiality.

The House adjourned shortly afterwards and will get down to work next week with the reading of the speech from the throne.

POWERS INTERESTED IN REPARATIONS TO CONFER

Paris, June 25 (P).—A conference of the powers interested in the reparations settlement probably will open about July 15, it was thought in official French circles today.

Switzerland, it was believed, would be chosen as the neutral ground for the negotiations, which would have as their object substitution of the Young plan for the Dawes settlement, and evacuation of the Rhineland.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK AT GREENE COUNTY PICNIC

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt is to be the main speaker at the sixth annual picnic of Greene county at the Fair Grounds, Cairo, N. More Deaths at Grade Crossing Sheffield, Mass., June 25 (P).—Two of the four survivors of a grade-crossing crash in which three children and a man were killed were in a critical condition at a Great Barrington Hospital today, with little hope held for their recovery.

The dead and injured, with the exception of Hyman Melamed of Albany Falls, driver of the truck which was struck by a Pittsfield-New York train yesterday at Walsh's crossing, were residents of New York city, vacationing at a farm here, the guests of a Jewish charitable organization.

Mrs. Ida Finkelstein, 55, Brooklyn, and her son, Hyman, 4, were the critically injured.

The dead were Ruth Kline, 10; her sister, Sylvia, 11; Sadie Salgo, 17, and Hyman Melamed, the truck driver.

Others injured were Julius Lansborg, 7, his brother, Nathan, 5, and Jack Kline, a brother of the dead girl.

The children, with Mrs. Finkelstein, had come here yesterday for a two weeks' vacation. Melamed invited the party to ride to the station with him while he collected their baggage and as his truck started over the tracks at Walsh's crossing it was struck by the New York express.

PENNSYLVANIA SILENT ON RUMORED PURCHASE

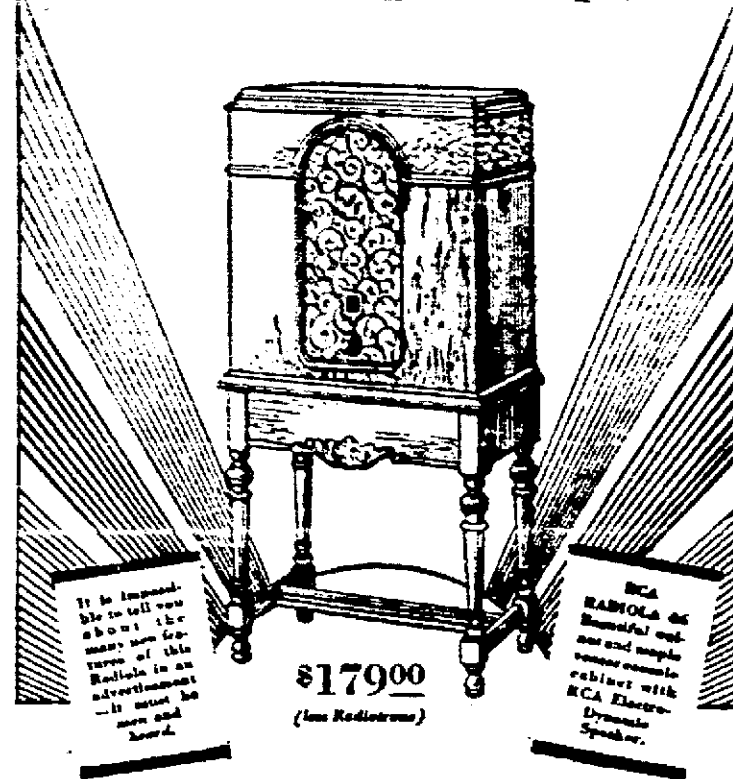

Philadelphia, June 25 (P).—At the offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company today, it was stated there was no comment to be made on the report that Pennsylvania interests were negotiating for the purchase of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, owned by the Henry Ford interests. The report, which has been in circulation several days, was neither affirmed nor denied by Pennsylvania officials.

Complete Electric Service for the Home available at low cost under New Residence Rates

For cooking and waterheating where gas is not available and everywhere for refrigeration and the other uses for which labor saving appliances have been developed, electric service may be applied to relieve the burden of household tasks and increase the comforts of living.

Under the new FULL DOMESTIC USE RATE effective July 15th, the cost of complete electric service for the home has been further reduced to bring its advantages within the reach of all residence customers even those of moderate means.

Examples of the low cost of extensive use of electric service under the FULL DOMESTIC USE RATE are shown below:

If a customer in a home with 5 counted rooms taking electricity for lighting, refrigeration, and ordinary appliances uses 120 kilowatt hours in a month, his bill will be $5.95 or an average of 5c per kilowatt hour.

If he adds an electric range and then uses 250 kilowatt hours, his bill will be $10.50, the additional usage costing 3 1/2c a kilowatt hour.

If he adds both an electric range and an electric storage water heater and then uses 600 kilowatt hours, his bill will be $17.50, the additional kilowatt hours in excess of 250 per month costing 2c each.

To secure service under the FULL DOMESTIC USE RATE customers now making, or contemplating extensive use of electricity, should apply at the nearest Company office where further details regarding this rate will gladly be given.

For customers using electricity less extensively, the new PARTIAL DOMESTIC USE RATE reduces the charge where consumption exceeds a limited amount and also provides a low price per kilowatt hour applicable to increased usage. This rate will be applied to all customers not making application for the FULL DOMESTIC USE RATE.

Columbia Wins In Rough Rowing Race

Washington Crew Second, Three Lengths Behind at Finish—Four of Nine Crews Swamped In Choppy River—False Starts, Mishaps and Lateness of Crews In Reaching Positions Wreck Schedule—The Summary.

By Alan J. Gould.
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 25 (AP).—Columbia is the gem of the intercollegiate rowing season after the roughest and most disastrous naval battle in the history of the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Down through four turbulent miles last evening the sons of little old New York rowed to magnificent triumph for the second time in three years, capturing the varsity championship of America. In their dazzling wake were strewn the shattered hopes of four of Columbia's eight rivals, chief among them the proud Golden Bears of California, champions of the world until this fateful race.

Old Man River went on a rampage for the crowning classic of the 1929 rowing season, kicking up a disturbance that wrecked the fortunes of all but five of the record fleet of nine eight-oared shells entered in the race for varsity championship honors.

What was forecast as the greatest of all college regattas was turned into a knockdown and drag out battle with the old man, who spared neither champions nor favorites nor trailers as he swamped one boat after another.

Above all the turmoil, the tragedy and startling events of a dusky evening, Columbia stood out supreme, overcoming all obstacles to beat a gallant Washington crew by three lengths.

The waterlogged huskies from the Pacific northwest, as game as a boatload as ever rowed, yielded to the mastery of New York's marvelous oarsmen, but in turn they were eight lengths ahead of another surprise boat, Pennsylvania. The Quakers came up out of the choppy seas to beat Navy at the other craft sank.

The Middies saved fourth place. Wisconsin was fifth and last.

Three of the four crews that were swamped met their downfall in the last mile, as Syracuse, then California and finally Cornell yielded the struggle and escaped from shells that sank below the waves. Cornell did not quit until its slim, fragile craft had broken in two. It sank, a wreck, to the bottom, but the others were saved.

M. I. T. First To Abandon Ship.

The fourth victim of Old Man River was Massachusetts Institute of Technology, making its bow in the big time competition on the Hudson. The Engineers from Cambridge, Mass., shipping water by the bucketful from the start, were forced to abandon ship just before the two-mile mark was reached.

Nothing like this debacle has ever before been witnessed in college rowing competition anywhere, although there have been many stormy days here as well as at such places as Lake Cayuga and the Charles river. Back in the dim days, Pennsylvania twice was swamped and Syracuse once.

Penn at other times encountered bad racing luck but last night the Quakers rose gallantly to the occasion to make their best finish since Rusty Callow came from Washington to direct their fortunes.

The four crews that were eliminated in this hectic struggle occupied four of the five slugs farthest from the west bank of the Hudson, out toward the middle of the river where the seas were roughest and roughest. Cornell was at No. 2 position, California at No. 6, M. I. T. at No. 8 and Syracuse at No. 9.

Nothing beyond this simple statement can reveal more eloquently the brilliance of the victory of these pupils of Young Dick Glendon under conditions that saw their foremost rivals swamped into submission, battered and wrecked.

Columbia met and conquered the same obstacles that overthrew the two crews picked to give the New Yorkers their severest test, California and Cornell. Columbia, shipping some but not so much water, rowed with magnificent precision, with superb confidence and skillful oarsmanship under conditions that first upset and then doomed the other favorites.

Guided smartly by Coxswain Bothe Dorman and stroked beautifully by 165 pound Alastair MacBain, the Columbians proved themselves champions in every sense of the word. It's an old saying on the turf that a good horse is good in any kind of going. Columbia proved last night it is good in any kind of water.

The defending champions were never better than fifth and never factors in the big race from the start until they finally sank five-eighths of a mile from the finish.

Washington Second.

Washington, after forcing a dizzy early race with the Navy, alone disputed the final mile with Columbia, content in the first three miles to lay off the pace and bide its time. Probably these tactics by Columbia were as decisive as the factor of heavy seas, for the Columbians had all the power and drive they needed for the big finish at a time when Washington's own shell well filled with water, appeared somewhat floundering. From a margin of only six feet entering the third mile, Columbia increased its margin to three lengths over the huskies.

Summary of Finishes.

Freshman (two miles)—Won by Syracuse, 19:25 2-5; second, California, 19:33 3-5; third, Cornell, 19:42; fourth, Navy, 19:45 3-6; fifth, Columbia, 19:51; sixth, M. I. T., 19:59 3-5; seventh, Pennsylvania, 11:05 2-5.

Junior Varsity (three miles)—Won by Cornell, 13:21 1-5; second, Columbia, 15:24; third, Navy, 15:25 2-5; fourth, Washington, 15:28 1-5; fifth, Syracuse, 15:43 1-5; sixth, Pennsylvania, 15:51.

Varsity (four miles)—Won by Columbia, 25:58; second, Washington, 28:41 2-5; third, Pennsylvania, 28:41 2-5; fourth, Navy, 28:58 4-5; fifth, Wisconsin, 29:05 2-5; Cornell out at 2 1/2 miles; California out at 3 1/2 miles; Syracuse out at 3 3/4 miles.

PAULINO AND SCHMELING IN TOP FORM FOR BOAT.

New York, June 25 (AP).—Paulino Uzcudun and Max Schmeling, rivals in the season's most important heavyweight joust, have ended their long training grind for their 15-round battle at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

Both the "German Dempsey" and his Spanish woodchopping rival have reached top form and will take it easy for the next few days at their training camps in Lakewood, N. J., and Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

Despite Schmeling's fine record in this country, the betting gentry persist in placing him on the short end of the betting at odds of 6 to 5. They figure that however hard the Teuton can hit he does not figure to stop the rushes of a Paulino, who has sampled the hitting capabilities of the best heavyweights in the business without so much as a single wince.

Pair Of Young Sluggers Put Punch In Phillies

These two sons of clout have been helping keep the scrappy Phillies at the top of the National League in batting.

Westvans-Polos This Evening

The second round of the Industrial Baseball League will get under way this evening at the Athletic Field when the West Shore-Van Slyke stack up against the Postoffice-Apollo. Johnny Carpenter probably will be the pitching choice of the Westvans, with Herbie Clark behind the plate. The Polos have added Paul Joyce to their roster and he is slated to do the twirling.

Tagging Major League Bases

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If they could play the Giants every day, Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Brooklyn Dodgers would be leading the National League instead of languishing in fifth place, only a hop, step and a jump out of the cellar.

However tough the Giants may be for the rest of the league, they're only "cousins" to the Dodgers, who beat their Manhattan rivals yesterday, 5 to 2, for the second straight day, the fourth time in their four last meetings and the eighth time out of 13 games this season.

Just when it seems that John McGraw's hirelings are about to go somewhere, the Dodgers come along and decide the Giants have gone far enough.

Yesterday's conflict saw William Watson Clark and "Jug" Handley Johnny Morrison limit the Giants to six hits. Clark pitched great ball until the eighth, the Giants' two runs in the first inning coming over on Freddy Lindstrom's fluke homer, a pop fly which the wind carried into the grandstands. In the eighth, however, Clark weakened and Morrison was summoned to the rescue, he got out of a bad hole and held the Giants hitless for the rest of the game.

The Robins bunched eight of their ten hits off Karl Hubbell, Jack Scott and Carl Mays in three innings for all their runs. Rube Bressler was the batting star with four straight singles that accounted for three Dodger runs.

In the only other National League engagement, the Chicago Cubs saluted one game out of the Pittsburgh Pirates, beating the Pirates, 4 to 3, chiefly because of the eight hits Ervyn Brame allowed. Three of them, homers by Cuyler, Wilson and Hornsby. Brame himself hit a homer in the fifth with one on to give the Pirates a lead that was only temporary. The victory left the Cubs a game and a half back of Pittsburgh, a game ahead of St. Louis and two games ahead of the Giants.

Rain halted the other scheduled league game between Boston and Philadelphia with the Braves leading 2 to 1 in the third inning.

In the American League, the Philadelphia Athletics increased their lead over the idle New York Yankees to nine full games by noosing out the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4. A double play with the bases full saved the day for the Mackmen in the ninth inning and enabled Rommel to chalk up his seventh straight triumph without a defeat.

Although idle the Yankees regained undisputed possession of second place when the St. Louis Browns, with whom they had been tied, dropped a decision to Cleveland, 10 to 4. Crowder and Ogden were found for 12 hits, including four home runs, two of them by Earl Averill. Miller, Indian southpaw, kept the Brown batters in subjection except in the seventh, when all the St. Louis runs were scored.

At Detroit, the Tigers pounded Faber and Guan for 13 hits and scored an easy 13 to 4 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Emil Yde, former Pirate southpaw, gave the Sox ten hits but tightened up in the

Crippled Girl Lives Alone on Homestead

Denver, Colo.—A crippled, twenty-three-year-old girl prepared to leave her home here recently for her homestead on the wide plains of Wyoming. She must stay there seven months alone, to prove up on her claim to the land. Already she has spent 14 months on the ranch within the past two years. She is Miss Dorothy Whitehead, daughter of a Denver attorney.

Released from Jail in Time to Go Back

Buffalo, N. Y.—"In again, Collins?" Inquired Judge Standard in city court. "Yes, your honor," Collins replied. "But it's been three months since I was here last time," he added hopefully.

"Where have you been?" "Doing 99 days," Collins responded. "Better take six months this time," the court said. Collins had been arrested for vagrancy.

High Praise for Gehringer

COMPARATIVELY few men designate the geographical location of Fowlerville, Mich., a town of something like 1,200 humans, in Livingston county, but Fowlerville has given baseball one of the best, if not the best, second basemen since Nap Lajoie. When Dan Howley, now manager of the St. Louis Browns, turned Charlie Gehringer over to Ty Cobb and the Tigers in the spring of 1926, the bald and voracious pilot, who at that time was at the helm of the Toronto club of the International league, did the Detroit club a service that scarcely could be measured in dollars and cents, writes F. J. Carver in the Detroit Free Press.

Gehringer was a high class prospect with the Leafs. He is a finished ball player and today certainly the best second baseman in the majors.

There is not a surer pair of hands in baseball than Gehringer's. He goes far to his right or left or even back into center or right field after drives labelled for left. He can throw with the best of them. He is a smooth piece of double play machinery and a high class defensive ball player.

Gehringer's remarkable fielding tells only part of his value to the Tigers. Over the greater part of the schedule to date, Gehringer has shown the way to his mates in hitting, and playing with a club that has been clubbing the ball for a team average of from .316 to .330 since the season started, it is not difficult to realize the potency in Gehringer's bat.

If there is anything missing from Gehringer's baseball makeup, it is color. Charlie is not of the chattering type. He cannot be persuaded to bait the umpires or spit tobacco juice into his glove. His even temper is described by some as a baseball handicap—but Charlie is batting .375 and fielding .901, which excuses him for lack of what the critics are wont to define as color.

There have been many good second basemen since Lajoie, among them Eddie Collins, Pep Young and Bill Wambegans, but did any of them have a pair of hands as sure as Gehringer's? And Gehringer is unlike Lajoie only because he hits 'em from the other side of the plate.

BASEBALL NOTES

The North Carolina State league in 1935 allowed only the pitcher and catcher to draw salaries.

Outfielder Russell Scarritt was bought by the Red Sox from St. Paul. He hit .354 for the Saints in 1923.

When Jack Quinn was pitching in the Federal league, experts said he was through. That's some time back.

Penn had won 11 straight ball games before bowing to Yale. Jim Peterson, pitcher, had won four in a row up to then.

John Frederick, rookie outfielder with Brooklyn, thinks baseball offers more to the young man than any other profession.

It is reported Havana is planning for a ball club in the Southeastern league, not later than the start of the 1930 season.

Leo Casey, outfielder of New Haven of the Eastern baseball league, has been sold outright to San Antonio of the Texas league.

Doc Gautreau, Montreal second baseman, understands French well and will know what the French-Canadian fans are yelling all year.

Connie Mack has four children prominent in sports, Roy and Earl in baseball, a son in high school football, and a girl in basket ball.

Carl Hubbell, who recently pitched a no-hit, no-run game, was presented with a wrist watch by the New York Giants' management for his performance.

Earl Clark, Boston Braves gardener, set a new National league record in the Braves-Cincinnati Reds game when he accepted twelve putouts in center field.

Officials of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast baseball league announced the purchase of Fred Haney, third baseman, from the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jim Scott, former major league pitcher and now an umpire in the Southern league, spends his winter months working in a Hollywood studio as a carpenter.

Luke Sewell, A. B. B. S. (Alabama), is the most educated player on the Cleveland Indians' roster. He has three months' work between him and a master's degree.

James Kenney, of the Delmar colored club, fell while rounding second base in a game at Laurel, Del. He was not sliding nor was he struck. The fall brought a broken leg.

Back home there was always a lad of eleven or so who was allowed to play right field on condition that he go after the ball in case of it dropping into the old lady's zinnias.

Tony Flansky, the great-all around athletic star of Georgetown, failed to make good with Providence. Flansky was taken South by the Braves and later turned over to King Bader at the Hub club's farm.

Jim Moore, young right-handed pitcher, was returned to Little Rock of the Southern association by the Cleveland Indians. Moore was obtained from Little Rock last fall on a conditional purchase.

There's No Escape

We can escape neither death nor taxes, and it appears that death herself cannot sidestep the tax. Six traveling skeletons, a short time ago, were assessed a 10 per cent ad valorem duty before being admitted to the United States.—New Orleans Times.

Football Officials to Signal Fans Penalties

Football officials in the East will use a signal system next fall to tell the fans in the stands what penalties are for, etc. In the gathering at Cambridge, for the Harvard demonstration game, the officials were drilled in signals by Walter Oakeson, chief of the eastern arbiters of the gridiron.

When an official on the field takes the ball and paces off 5 or 15 yards next fall the spectators won't have to ask each other what it was for. They'll be told by signals. Oakeson has not hit upon a definite code as yet but will devise one as simple and plain as possible.

Several years ago Pete Dwyer of Syracuse voluntarily used such a set of signals and he was a very popular official. But others, the veterans, frowned upon him and would not follow suit.

Havana Course Lessons Task of Golf Visitors

The Country club of Havana has a most ingeniously arranged score card that could be copied to advantage by every "pay-as-you-play" and resort layout in the country.

The first page has the yardage and par for the links. Nothing unusual about that, but on the second and third pages are given an outline of each hole, showing where to aim and to place the drive for the short player, the medium hitter and the slugger. All hazards, whether natural or artificial, are shown clearly. For a person starting out over a strange course, such directions are a great convenience.

Lee Meadows Sold

The Indianapolis baseball club of the American association announces that it has obtained Lee Meadows, veteran pitcher, from Pittsburgh of the National league on an optional agreement. Meadows has been in the major leagues for years and was one of the first players to wear spectacles while in uniform.

John Evers Restrained From Baiting Umpires

Johnny Evers, first lieutenant to Emil Fuchs, officially is captain of the Braves, and as such is permitted to discuss the decisions with the umpire, but this is limited. When the Braves are at bat and Evers is on the third base coaching line he may talk to the umpire, but when the Braves are in the field and he is in the dugout he may not come out. Umpire McCormick restrained him when he talked up one of the dugout recently and when Evers took the matter up with President John A. Heydler of the league, Heydler upheld the umpire.

Feature Fights Attracting Fans

A great deal of interest is being aroused by the 16-round feature and the six-round semi-final bout to be put on at the armory Friday night. The famous Spider Kelly and the clever George Siders are slated to do the big show and Ray King of Governor's Island and Young Mikowski of New York, will caper in the other.

One of the largest gatherings of fight fans that ever packed the armory is expected to visit the club shed Friday night. The name of George Siders is recalled by Kingston fans, who saw him score a very decisive victory over Mickey McVey here. Many have been eagerly waiting to see his name on a card again.

And his opponent, Spider Kelly, who does turns in the biggest arenas of New York city, will be in Kingston to give George one of the toughest scraps he ever participated in, according to Matchmaker Jimmy Ambrose. Some time ago Ambrose said that he planned on bringing to Kingston some of the best boys in the Guard. The Friday card contains several of them.

Those who attended the last card of fights in the armory will recall the satisfactory performance turned in by Roy King. He met a tough man in Charlie Wiggins of West Point and overcame him in decisive style. Wiggins hit the canvas three times from blows dealt out by King in two rounds of fighting.

Young Mikowski of New York will give King plenty of trouble it is said. The boy from the metropolis is eager to take the measure of the Governor's Island lad, so indications point to a fast semi-final.

Mrs. L. Peters of Albany is visiting her mother, Mrs. Miller, of Oakwood Terrace.

On Tuesday evening the Normal Dramatic Club presented "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" by Auguste Franck in the Normal auditorium.

The acting president expressed in a certain speech the hope that those to whom the play was given would be as blessed as those who gave it. The play is done "as of the time of Rabelais" and it was very funny in its picture of what happened in the garden and along the road in front of the house of Master Leonard Botel, Judge.

Master Botel is the unhappy man described in the title. Having said Bruce Bennett, of the Normal faculty, was in charge, it goes without saying that the characters were well cast and expertly trained.

The club officers are: President, Jessie Arrington; vice president, Frances Bell; secretary, Genevieve Curtin; treasurer, Marjorie Tibbo.

The New Palitz All Stars beat Wallkill Wednesday night by the score of 4-2. Michel pitched a fine game, striking out 9 men in six innings.

The All Stars had Wallkill 4-0 until the fourth inning, when Wallkill scored its first run. Wallkill scored two pitchers against New Palitz, Terrell, their star hurler, being one of them.

Harry L. Eberle has opened a gas-oline station in connection with his road stand on the Springtown road, where lunch and refreshments are served. He has completed his road stand in situation half way from New Palitz to Tilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel T. Deyo, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Deyo and Charles W. Turner, of Binghamton passed through New Palitz on Tuesday on their way home from commencement at Amherst.

Mrs. Fred Coddington left last Thursday for a visit with her daughter, Miss Lucille Coddington, who is teaching at Ocean Side, Long Island.

Mrs. B. V. Roach of Kingston spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Erastus D. Gerald, on South Chestnut street and attended class day exercises at the Normal School.

Miss Helena Lefevre of Middletown was a recent guest of Mrs. Jerome Lefevre. Miss Lefevre is now in Cleveland, where she is attending a reunion of her class at college.

Theodore Clapp, formerly of New Palitz, was a member of the graduating class at Union College.

Miss Mary Walsh of New York city is spending some time at her home in town visiting her father and aunt.

Miss Marjorie Weismiller is affiliated with the Bloomington Hospital at White Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright entertained Miss Dorothy Ingraham of New York city over last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Trefry and daughter of Stratford, Conn., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott.

All reported having a fine time.

Mrs. Libbie Hasbrouck, who has been spending a few months with her daughter in Dutchess county, has returned to New Palitz.

Raymond Hasbrouck and daughters, Elizabeth and Mary Jane, and son, Francis, visited his sister, Mrs. Fred Witsey, and family in Stissing, Dutchess county, recently.

George Cahill of Kingston was in town Tuesday evening.

Hans Anderson spent Sunday at East Norwich, Long Island.

Miss Ann Lucy is home for the summer vacation.

Mrs. Goetchius and Miss Goetchius left Thursday for Lenox, Mass.

Miss Ethel Alsdorf spent Wednesday night, June 12, at her home in New Palitz and attended the graduation exercises at West Point on Thursday, returning to Cedarhurst in the evening.

The official canvass made in the Jenkintown school district resulted in a majority of 20 votes for consolidation. There were 38 votes for and 18 against consolidation for the New Palitz High School.

Mrs. Howard Strongman of Lloyd visited her sister, Mrs. Myron Vandemark, on Eltinge Avenue, Monday.

Mrs. Mary Davis is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Palmatier.

PRINTING NEW BILLS

KEEPING U. S. BUSY

Nine Million of Small Size Ready July 1.

Washington.—Nearly 2,000,000 bills, greenbacks and yellowbacks, issued by the United States government and scattered among banks, business houses, and people throughout the country, on or near July 1, will be able to go into permanent retirement at the discretion of their holders.

This does not mean that Uncle Sam has decided to call in all his paper money and issue in its place gold and silver, but that on that date he will replace this 1,500 tons of money, which would fill 40 box cars, with a new series of standardized notes one-third less in size and weight and occupying one-third less space in storage and handling.

Plant Hard at Work.

This stupendous task of replacement is being done by the bureau of printing and engraving in Washington, where the United States government manufactures its paper money. The plant is working night and day under full force to have this new issue ready on time, and is turning out the largest order in its history. It is producing six tons of the new money every 24 hours. Eight hundred and fifty-seven million pieces of fresh, crisp currency are being stored in the vaults of the treasury to be soon distributed to every state in the Union.

The suggestion of smaller paper money for the United States first came from Americans who had returned from the Philippine Islands and had become accustomed to the smaller size of currency in use there, which they found far more convenient to handle. When money was first being printed for the Philippine government, to avoid the confusion that would be caused if both currencies were of the same size, the islands were furnished paper money in sizes one-third smaller than that used in the United States.

Counterfeiting Forestalled.

Extreme care is being used in the printing and engraving of the new paper money to prevent counterfeiting. The faces will represent the highly specialized and artistic work of some half dozen different expert engravers, and the character of the engraving is such that it is almost impossible to match.

No longer will there be any yellowbacks and the repetition of portraits on bills of different denominations. All bills will be engraved and printed in green and black. The portrait of Washington will be on the one-dollar bills, Jefferson on the two, Lincoln on the five, Hamilton on the ten, Jackson on the twenties, Grant on the fifties, Franklin on the hundreds, McKinley on the five hundreds, Cleveland on the thousands, Madison on the five thousands, and Chase on the ten thousands.

While an immense saving is foreseen by government officials in the paper and ink used, and the printing and handling of the new paper money, a question which has arisen and yet remains to be solved is the changing of the national bank notes to conform with the new style.

The bureau of engraving and printing has a set of engraved plates for each denomination ordered by the national banks throughout the country. These aggregate more than 10,000 plates, and the re-engraving of all of them would take many years to accomplish and cost nearly $1,000,000. The only solutions that remain open are the extremely expensive processes of re-engraving all the plates, the elimination of the national bank currency after 1930, or the issuing of a universal bank note upon which the name of the bank can be imprinted.

Official Courting Room in English Fire Station

London.—Birmingham is probably the only city in the world which has an official courting chamber or love lounge, as the citizens are prone to call it.

The salon of cupid has been provided for the convenience of the unmarried firemen at Birmingham's central fire station.

Except on their weekly day "off," firemen are not permitted to go out of sound of the station alarm bell. Consequently, firemen and their sweethearts had to prosecute their love affairs just outside the station—and in the public notice, they felt uncomfortable, no doubt.

One of the rooms of the fire station, therefore, has been equipped by the city with easy chairs, a library and a gramophone. But even then, Dan Cupid must step aside when the fire goes ringing.

The laudable part of the official match-making, however, is that the girls always wait in the lounge until the smoke eaters return from the fire.

Woman Hands Conductor Transfer 36 Years Old

Chicago.—What worries F. W. Rapp of Chicago is whether one of his customers actually waited 36 years for his street car at a Chicago intersection.

Rapp has been a conductor on the Chicago lines a long time. When a woman handed him a transfer after boarding his car at a crossing, his quick eye discerned an anachronism.

The time and place seemed correct. The transfer was from a car on a Chicago line, and the hour and day were correctly punched, but the year was 1893.

Luther League

Party at Glenerie

Monday night the Redeemer Luther League acted as host to the Luther League of Middletown, N. Y., at the Charles Ramsey Lodge at Glenerie. This was one of the annual parties held by the Redeemer Luther League, and feeling that a closer fellowship should exist between the two leagues so closely located, the Middletown League was invited.

At about 6:30 o'clock the Kingstonians began arriving. It wasn't very long before they were all swimming. Shortly afterward the Middle-towners arrived in a bus. There were about 25 of them, and it did not take them very long to follow the example of the Kingstonians and to partake of the pleasant cooling effects afforded by the Esopus creek.

When they came out they were a hungry bunch. But the committee, led by Catherine Bailey, was prepared for them. Two large tables in the lodge were seated and everyone satisfied themselves with hot dogs, potato salad, pickles, olives and watermelon.

After the refreshments were served everyone took part in games and dancing. Music was supplied by the Moonlight Revelers of Kingston.

Among those present from Middletown were the Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Fechner, Mrs. E. Isenman, Mr. and Mrs. William Sannwald, Martha Catter, Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp, Marguerite Kroll, Lydia Kroll, Anna Harman, William A. Roeth, Harry Heisenbuttel, Mr. and Mrs. George Tischer, Kurt Holstein, Erwin Packhiser, Pauline Sayer, Martha Prigges, Maud Isenman, Mr. and Mrs. William Kurz, Ann Isenman, Thelma Raymond, Frances and Ruth Fechner.

Kingston was represented by Caroline Herrmann, Marion Messinger, Catherine Rosa, Karl Messinger, Florence Schusser, Harry Miller, Fred Spalt, Pansey Ramming, George Butt, Mr. and Mrs. John Romulus, Howard Thomas, Ellen Hutton, Sophia Wakeham, Gilbert Schline.

At about 10:30 everyone joined in singing, then departed for their respective homes, all being glad that they were there.

Precautions at Camp Preumaker

The camp director of Camp Preumaker, the Y. M. C. A. Camp for boys, has received a report from the City Laboratory, stating that they have examined the drinking water of the camp and have found it to be an excellent water for drinking.

This is just one of the many precautions that the Y. M. C. A. takes to protect the many boys that are in its care throughout the camping season, as well as those who participate in the building activities.

Another precaution is the having

KEEPING U. S. BUSY

Nine Million of Small Size Ready July 1.

Washington.—Nearly 2,000,000 bills, greenbacks and yellowbacks, issued by the United States government and scattered among banks, business houses, and people throughout the country, on or near July 1, will be able to go into permanent retirement at the discretion of their holders.

This does not mean that Uncle Sam has decided to call in all his paper money and issue in its place gold and silver, but that on that date he will replace this 1,500 tons of money, which would fill 40 box cars, with a new series of standardized notes one-third less in size and weight and occupying one-third less space in storage and handling.

Plant Hard at Work.

This stupendous task of replacement is being done by the bureau of printing and engraving in Washington, where the United States government manufactures its paper money. The plant is working night and day under full force to have this new issue ready on time, and is turning out the largest order in its history. It is producing six tons of the new money every 24 hours. Eight hundred and fifty-seven million pieces of fresh, crisp currency are being stored in the vaults of the treasury to be soon distributed to every state in the Union.

The suggestion of smaller paper money for the United States first came from Americans who had returned from the Philippine Islands and had become accustomed to the smaller size of currency in use there, which they found far more convenient to handle. When money was first being printed for the Philippine government, to avoid the confusion that would be caused if both currencies were of the same size, the islands were furnished paper money in sizes one-third smaller than that used in the United States.

Counterfeiting Forestalled.

Extreme care is being used in the printing and engraving of the new paper money to prevent counterfeiting. The faces will represent the highly specialized and artistic work of some half dozen different expert engravers, and the character of the engraving is such that it is almost impossible to match.

No longer will there be any yellowbacks and the repetition of portraits on bills of different denominations. All bills will be engraved and printed in green and black. The portrait of Washington will be on the one-dollar bills, Jefferson on the two, Lincoln on the five, Hamilton on the ten, Jackson on the twenties, Grant on the fifties,
